It is hard to find resources for higher ed students who are functioning at such a low level. Engaging for both face to face and virtual students. Very helpful for me in saving time.

I've been using this in packets for my students and parents love them. They're easy for them to use and like the real-life application. The actual pictures of the job are another favorite.

This resource was actually exactly what I was looking for in regards to working on an IEP goal with a student digitally. I was able to send this home and the parent has able to complete them while viewing the pictures on their home computer!
